DETAILED ACTION

1 This application has been examined. An informational disclosure statement (IDS) filed March 6, 2002, has been considered. A preliminary amendment filed March 6, 2002, has been entered. Claims 1-12 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims fail to recite elements and their interrelationships to define a device having a first and second “vacuum” nozzle unit 2, 3 controlled by a valve 27 to control vacuum to a space (vacuum cup) 24. Unit 3 is continuously supplied by vacuum. Unit 2 vacuum is control by valve 27. A pressure source 18 is shown.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EPO 0540 488 A1 (Japan) cited on the IDS. The EPO shows a vacuum producing device with a shutoff valve

60, a principal suction unit 22 and 24 and an additional suction unit 42 in constant fluid communication with source 20. The valve 60 is a 2/2 way valve. A spring 70 biases the valve element 64. Several parallel connected principal suction units 22 and 24 are shown.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
